UNITED States of AMERICA, Case No.

v.

Jesse Lee Zeigler,
Defendant,

Notice of and
Motion under 18
U.S.C. 3582(c) for Reduction and Compassionate
Release.

PLEASE TAKE NOTICE THAT defendant
JESSE LEE ZEIGLER MOVES this court to reduce his sentence and grant him
Compassionate release.

Notice of Motion for compassionate release.

INTRODUCTION

Jesse Lee Zeigler has Served 71 Months of the 120-Month Sentence Imposed by this Court December 2016, following a guilty plea of aiding and abetting Robbery affecting Interstate Commerce 18 U.S.C. 1951(a). He has Spent his entire time in BOP Custody at USP Lompoc and has a November 22, 2023 projected release date.

His prison sentence has become significantly harder due to COVID-19 pandemic ravaging the United States, the BOP, and Lompoc specifically. Mr. Zeigler's Medical history put him at a significant risk for severe illness or death if he contracts COVID-19 in Lompoc. His Chronic Kidney disease, and likely asthma. His risk of death or illness from COVID-19 increases because of the fact he is a 41 year old African American man.

Because of Medical conditions and personal characteristics that increase his risk of severe illness or death were he to catch COVID-19, and pursuant to 18 U.S.C. 3582(c)(1), Mr. Zeigler Moves the court for an order reducing sentence and releasing him from Lompoc immediately.

A. Mr. Zeigler's BOP Performance.

Mr. Zeigler has been in custody since MAY 2015 and is in BOP since December 2016. He has spent his entire time at Lompoc.

From a programming point of view, Mr. Zeigler has taken and completed numerous classes to better himself and develop work skills for life after prison.

see Exhibit A, BOP Transcript, education report and Certificates - Not leaving out ONE OSHA Certification.

B. Mr. Zeigler's Compassionate release request
ON MAY 22, 2020 Mr. Zeigler request for Compassionate release under 18 U.S.C. 3582(c) to the warden at USP Lompoc via Mail. request for compassionate release/Reduction in Sentence was denied and as of this filing, the warden has not responded to said request.

Argument

By passing the First Step Act ("FSA") in 2018, Congress intended "to promote rehabilitation of prisoners and unwind decades of mass incarceration." (United States v. Rodriguez, 424 F. Supp. 3d 674, 680 (N.D. Cal. 2019) (citing Cong. Research Serv., R45558, The First Step Act of 2018: AN Overview 1 (2019)). One purpose of the First Step Act was to increase a district authority to grant an inmate compassionate release.

The FSA expanded a Sentencing court's authority to reduce an otherwise final term of imprisonment for "extraordinary and compelling reasons." 18 U.S.C. § 3582(c)(1)(A)(i). The "effect of the [FSA] is that a district judge has the ability to grant a prisoner's motion for compassionate release even in the face of BOP opposition or its failure to respond to a prisoner's request for compassionate release in a timely manner." United States v. Young, 2020 WL 1047815, *5 (M.D. Tenn. Mar. 4, 2020). "[F]ederal judges are no longer constrained by the BOP Director's determination of what constitutes extraordinary and compelling reasons for a sentence reduction," and can independently determine whether a defendant's circumstances are enough to warrant compassionate release. Id. at *6; see also United States v. Beck, 425 F. Supp. 3d 573, 587 (M.N.C. 2019) ("the terms of the First Step Act give courts independent authority to grant motions for compassionate release and say nothing about deference to [BOP], thus establishing that Congress wants courts to take de novo look at compassionate release motions.")

This Court has jurisdiction to consider Mr. Zeigler's compassionate release request.

Mr. Zeigler has ~~ex~~ satisfied the exhaustion requirement of 18 U.S.C. § 3582(c)(1) and this court can consider his compassionate release request.

Of course, this is not the best of times. The COVID-19 infection rate within prison generally, and BOP facilities specifically far outpaces the infection rate in the United States. A recent research letter in the Journal of the American Medical Association ("JAMA") found the COVID-19 case rate for prisoners of 3,251 per 100,000 prisoners was 5.5 times higher than the U.S. population case rate of 587 per 100,000. Similarly, the adjusted death rate from COVID-19 for inmates was three times higher than would be expected if age and sex distributions of the U.S. and prison population were equal. The BOP has reported that 17% of tested inmates at Lompoc USP were positive, more than double the positive rate of 7.2% in the State of California as a whole over the last 14 days.

Having chronic kidney disease of any stage increases your risk for severe illness from COVID-19. ... Mr Zeigler is a 41 year-old African American man. Sadly, race makes him more susceptible to getting seriously sick or dying if he were to catch COVID-19. There is no denying that, as the CDC itself recognizes, "history shows that severe illness and death rates tend to be higher for racial and ethnic minority populations during public health emergencies than other populations."

The 3553(a) factors support release and Mr. Zeigler is Not a danger to the Community.

Mr. Zeigler's immediate release is consistent with 3553 factors. While this Court concluded that those factors supported an 120-month sentence when Mr. Zeigler was sentenced in 2016, the "balance weighs differently in the current circumstances" of the pandemic. United States v. Gonzalez, 05-cr-1292 (JMF), 2020 WL 2766048*1 (S.D.N.Y. MAY 28, 2020)

As for deterring criminal conduct and protecting the public, the time Mr. Zeigler has served is enough to convince him not to be apart of any wrongdoings. Mr. Zeigler has taken advantage of the programming opportunities available to him before the pandemic, completing numerous courses and avoiding any incident reports. Thus, Mr. Zeigler has already heeded the Court's warning and stayed out of trouble. See United States v. Truillo, 713.3d 1003, 1010 (9th cir. 2013) (Sentencing court can consider "post-offence rehabilitation-particularly in light of its tendency to reveal a defendant's likelihood of future criminal conduct") Pepper v. United States, 562 U.S. 476, 491-93 (2011).

Finally, Mr. Zeigler does not pose "a danger to the safety of any other person or to the community". Mr. Zeigler has been a model inmate.

The defendant is also facing Three Years Supervised release - limitations on his freedoms - during which he can quickly return to custody if he shows signs of likely recidivism. United States v. McPherson, 2020 WL 1862596*, 5 (W.D. Wash. Apr. 14, 2020). The same is true for Mr. Zeigler, who will be intensively supervised by the probation office upon release. If he violates the conditions of supervised release, or is arrested for new criminal conduct, he knows he will find himself in prison again.

CONCLUSION

For the reasons set above, Mr. Zeigler requests this Court grant his request for compassionate release and resentencing him to time served. Mr. Zeigler is not opposed to placement on home confinement until he completes his completed. see 18 U.S.C. § 3582(c)(1)(A) (Court "may impose a term... Supervised release with or without conditions that does not exceed unserved portion of the original term of Imprisonment")

Jesse Lee Zeigler

MEMORANDUM FOR ZEIGLER, JESSE, REG. NO. 20604-111

FROM:  L. J. Milusnic, Acting Complex Warden

SUBJECT: Compassionate Release Review

Your request for Compassionate Release/Reduction in Sentence (RIS) has been reviewed pursuant to 18 U.S.C. 4205(g) and §§ 3582(c)(1)(A). We will not be pursuing a request for compassionate release in your case.

The information and documentation you provided pursuant to Program Statement 5050.50, Compassionate Release/Reduction in Sentence: Procedures for Implementation of 18 U.S.C. §§3582(c)(1)(A) and 4205(g) was carefully reviewed and considered. Based on the information you provided, your request does not meet the criteria set forth in the Program Statement in which the Bureau of Prisons would file a motion in the court "in particularly extraordinary or compelling circumstance which could not reasonably have been foreseen by the court at the time of sentencing." You failed to provide specific information under a qualifying category, which would warrant the submission of a RIS request. Please familiarize yourself with Program Statement 5050.50, Compassionate Release/Reduction in Sentence prior to submitting your request.

Accordingly, you are not appropriate for RIS at this time. If you are not satisfied with this reply, you may submit an appeal on the appropriate form (BP-9) to this office within 20 calendar days of the date of this response.
